

EASTERN STAR HOME AND STAR COURT SUITE NEWS

The Eastern Star Home is filled with fall décor in preparation of the ESH Vender Fair on November 22nd from 10am to 5pm in the Masonic Building. We are excited to have a few new faces to add to our line of vendors this year. We will have homemade items, vendors items, a bake sale and we will be serving lunch. Our residents look forward this a day of looking and shopping. Everyone is welcome to join us.

The Tulare United Church Ladies held their monthly meeting in our Assisted Living dining room and invited our ladies to join them. They held a lesson and made cute pumpkins to decorate their tables at the TUC. Lyn Flint was the accompanist for our Wednesday afternoon "Happy Day Sing A Long". It always fun to reminisce with those good old favorites. Following was story time with Mary O'Donnell reading a book written by Clayton Jennings. Thursday afternoon family and friends joined Duane Mason for ice cream sundaes to celebrate his birthday. Friday we had our creative juices flowing with Mary Buchholz as she helped us make homemade cards using rubber stamps. Saturday Carmen Davis was our bingo caller and the movie "Mall Cop" was watched in the evening. Pastor Todd Bowar lead our Sunday Worship Service in our chapel.

The Red Suspender Band came from Watertown to share his musical talents with us on Veteran's Day. Nothing better than fun toe tapping music. Join us today for Bonita Wurz's birthday party at 3pm in our nursing home dining room. Story time with Mary at 4pm and bingo with Marsha at 7:15pm. Sheryl Kloss and Maxine Stemper will come share a little taste of trivia about Lady Bird Johnson during Mom & Max Time on Thursday at 3:15pm. Wheel of Fortune will be great way to getting our minds thinking for our Friday afternoon activity and Saturday Lisa Haigh and a few her nieces will be calling bingo. For Movie Night we will be watching "Mall Cop #2". Recharging us for the week will be Pastor Tammy Toepke Floyd in the chapel Sunday at 3:15pm.

We hope you all have a great week and enjoy this krisp fresh air. Follow us on our Face Book page for upcoming activities.
