

EASTERN STAR HOME AND STAR COURT SUITE NEWS

The Eastern Star Home and Star Court Suites celebrated Fat Tuesday by starting the day with breakfast with the Administrator. Debbie Bowar served homemade waffles hot off the griddle with the topping options of strawberries 'n cool whip, peaches 'n cream or hot maple syrup and the choice of bacon or sausage. Dave Willis shared some snow stories with the Men's Table Time crew while sharing a cup of coffee and a cookie. Bingo was overseen by the Mardi Gras Queen Elsie Brooker after she received the king in her cup cake. Marsha Hofer called Mardi Gras bingo and Marie Mason and Elnora Burdick tied with the most beads for bingos. It was so nice having Tom Pickles share his music with a full dining room on Wednesday afternoon after his trip to Florida. Ruth Stoller celebrated her 94th birthday with white cake, white frosting and ice cream. It was nice having her son Don and Pastor Utecht join us for the party. We ended the week with trivia and brain teasers. On Saturday Marsha Hofer called bingo, and lead exercises. For movie night they watched Jane Eyre and Sunday Worship was lead by Pastor Marty Toepke Floyd.

Eileen Gabler celebrated her 88th birthday with peacock décor and chicken salad sandwiches, chips and dill pickles. On Tuesday Bobbie Turner and Albert Schmidt joined Mens Table Time for some conversation and a break from the cold weather. Randy and Lisa Haigh, Bobbie and Amy Turner, Daryl Schutte and Debbie Bowar served fifty residents a whimsical supper of caramelized pineapple, stone ground tuscan dinner loaves, bacon wrapped pork, sweet potato casserole, lemon garlic green beans and cheesecake prepared by Anna Rohrbach our dietary manager. The dining room was lite by candlelight and decorated by the Gilbert Gals Ellen Kay Haigh and Carol Carlson to set the ambience. This is always a special evening for our amazing residents.

Our Activity Director will serve a surprise tasting event on Thursday and Friday Melva Olsen will celebrate her 91st birthday. Ray Dunn our Experience Works participant has completed his four year term as of March 16th so a staff potluck was hosted in his honor as he starts a new adventure. Pastor Tammy Toepke Floyd will lead the Sunday Worship on St Patrick's Day.
